I. PROCESSIONAL HYMN: TEN THOUSAND TIMES TEN THOUSAND

.....Congregation/Orchestra

1. Ten thousand times ten thousand
In sparkling raiment bright
The armies of the ransomed saints
Throng up the steeps of light
Tis finished, all is finished
Their fight with death and sin
Fling open wide the golden gates,
And let the victors in.
2. What rush of alleluias
Fills all the earth and sky!
What ringing of a thousand harps
Be-speaks the triumph nigh!
O day for which creation
And all its tribes were made
O joy, for all its former woes
A thousand fold repaid!
3. O then what raptured greetings
On Canaan's happy shore!
What knitting severed friendships
Where partings are no more! Up,
Then eyes with joy shall sparkle
That brimmed with tears of late
Orphans no longer fatherless
Nor widows desolate.
4. Bring near Thy great salvation,
Thou Lamb for sinners slain
Fill up the role of Thine elect
Then take thy pow'r and reign
Appear desire of nations
Thine exiles long for home
Show in the heav'n Thy promised sign
Thou Prince and Saviour, come.

1. Egbegberun aimoye

3. a. HOW BEAUTIFUL HEAVEN MUST BEChoir

1. We read of a place that's called heaven,
It's made for the pure and the free;
These truths in God's Word He hath given.
How beautiful heaven must be.

Refrain:

How beautiful heaven must be?
Sweet home of the happy and free;
Fair haven of rest for the weary,
How beautiful heaven must be ?

2. In heaven no drooping nor pining,
No wishing for elsewhere to be;
God's light is forever there shining,
How beautiful heaven must be?
3. Pure waters of life there are flowing,
And all who will drink may be free;
Rare jewels of splendor are glowing,
How beautiful heaven must be?
4. The angels so sweetly are singing,
Up there by the beautiful sea;
Sweet chords from their gold harps are ringing,
How beautiful heaven must be?.

1. A ka nipa orun didara,
Ta pese f'awon eni mimo,
Otito yi han ninu Oro Olorun,
Ba wo l'orun ti dara to?

Chorus:

Bawo l'orun ti dara to?

b. I'LL FLY AWAYChoir

1. Some glad morning when this life is o'er
I'll fly way;
To a home on God's celestial shore.
I'll fly away in the morning.

Chorus: I fly away to glory,

I'll fly away, in the morning
When I die, Hallelujah by and by
I'll fly away

2. Just a few more weary days and then,
I'll fly away;
To a land where joys shall never end,
I'll fly away

Chorus: I'll fly away, O glory

1. Gba t'ajo aye mi ba dopin

4. ONE OF THESE DAYSMixed Quartet

1. I looked about one morn-ing,
And through a mis-ty sky
I gazed upon a bat-tle field
Man-kind was pass-ing by;
I saw how e-vil and des-pair
Held them in a trance
And as they called for me to join,
I shout-ed, "Not a chance!"

Chorus:

One of these days,
One of these days,
One of these days
I'm going home,
One of these days.
Trouble will soon be passed
There will be peace at last
One of these days I'm going home
One of these days

2. I may not live in com-fort
But this I sure-ly know,
While wait-ing here below
For I can see the gold-en streets
By the eastern gate
My spa-cious man-sion is com-plete,
And I can hard-ly wait.

5. THE GLAD REUNION DAYDuet

1. I have heard of a land
On a far away strand,
In the Bible the story is told,
Where cares never come,
Never darkness nor gloom,
And nothing shall ever grow old.

Chorus:

In that beautiful land,
On the far away strand,
No storms with their blasts ever frown;
The street, I am told, is paved with pure gold,
And the sun, it shall never go down.

1. Mo gburo ile kan lonà jìjìn rere

Egbe:

Níle dídára naa lona jìjìn rere,
k'yo sekun tàbí ifajuro.
Gbogbo ilé re je kíkì wúrà
Orùn re k'yo wo títi lae

2. There are evergreen trees
That bend low in the breeze,
And their fruitage is brighter than gold;
There are harps for our hands,
In that fairest of lands,
And nothing shall ever grow old.
3. There's a home in that land,
At the Father's right hand,
There are mansions whose joys are untold;
And perennial spring,
Where the birds ever sing,
And nothing shall ever grow old.

2. Igi 'ye wá nibe f'áwon èniyàn mimo

7. TELL FATHER, I'LL BE THERESolo/Choir (Deceased's Favourite Song)

1. When I was but a little child how well I recollect
How I would grieve my father with my folly and neglect;
And now that he has gone to heaven ,
I miss his tender care;
O Saviour, tell my father I'll be there!

Chorus: .

Tell father I'll be there in answer to his prayer
This message, blessed Saviour, to him bear!
Tell father I'll be there, heav'n joys with him to share,
Yes, tell my darling father, I'll be there!

2. When I became a prodigal and left the old roof-tree,
He almost broke his loving heart in mourning after me;
And day and night he prayed to God to keep me in His care;
O Saviour, tell my father I'll be there.

1. Mo ranti igba ti mo wa li omo kekere

9. HEAVEN IS NEARERSolo

Chorus:

Heaven is nearer since father is there.
Heaven is nearer since father is there,
Earth's ties are broken and heav'n is more fair
Heaven is nearer since father is there.

1. Dark are the windows, no flickering glow
Lights up the old home that we used to know,
But in the darkness a sweet face so fair
Smiled down from heaven for father is there.
2. Oft when the shadow of eventide fall,
I seem to hear her voice tenderly call;
In words familiar, "Let's come now to prayer"
I kneel in rev'ence and father is there.
3. O how I miss his sweet voice and his smile,
Yet I shall see him again after while
With our dear Saviour I know he will wait
With a glad welcome just inside the gate.

Egbe:

12. RECESSIONAL HYMN: SING THE WONDROUS LOVE OF JESUS ...

Congregation/Orchestra

1. Sing the wondrous love of Jesus
Sing His mercy and His grace
In the mansions bright and blessed
He'll prepare for us a place

Chorus:

When we all get to heaven
What a day of rejoicing that will be
When we all see Jesus
We'll sing and shout the victory.

2. While we walk the pilgrim pathway
Clouds will over spread the sky
But when travelling days are over
Not a shadow, not a sigh.
3. Let us then be true and faithful
Trusting, serving every day
Just one glimpse of Him in glory
Will the toils of life repay.
4. Onward to the prize before us
Soon His beauty we'll behold
Soon the pearly gates will open
We shall tread the streets of gold.

A SHORT OBITUARY REMARKS OF OUR LATE BELOVED FATHER AND BROTHER,

REV. PAUL KADIR SHIDALI

December 4, 1933 - August 16, 2026

LIFE RECEIVED

The Late Rev. Paul Kadir Shidali was born on December 4, 1933, at Emi-Aguye in Bassa Division of Benue, now Kogi State, to the family of the late Pa Aguye Shidali and the late Mrs Nashe Shidali. His life began in a modest setting. He belonged to a generation for whom responsibility was learned early and progress required perseverance. The values formed in those early years became recurring threads throughout his life.

What makes his story remarkable is not only the length of his years, but the way those years were steadily given to the formation of others. He would become a teacher and headmaster, a public servant, a husband and father, a pastor and church leader, and, in later life, a source of counsel and spiritual wisdom to children, grandchildren, church members, and many others.

EDUCATION

Between 1943 and 1949, our Late Paul Kadir Shidali attended Primary school. Between 1962 and 1969, he pursued teacher training and obtained his Grade III and Grade II Teaching Certificates. In 1982, he studied at the University of Ilorin and obtained an Associate Certificate in Education. His commitment to education reflected a conviction that knowledge should not end with the learner, but should become a tool for developing other people.

CAREER AND PROFESSIONAL LIFE

In 1963, Late Brother Paul Kadir Shidali began his professional working life as a Primary School Teacher, serving in Akabe, Jebba, and Ilorin. The classroom gave him one of his earliest platforms for shaping lives through instruction, discipline, and example, and teaching remained a defining thread throughout his professional journey.

In 1970, he moved into public service, working with the Kwara State Census Office and later the Ministry of Health. In 1976, he was transferred by the Kwara State Ministry of Health to Benue State. Accepting the transfer would have required him to leave Ilorin at a critical stage in the development of the church work. He chose instead to resign from the Ministry of Health so that he could remain in Ilorin and continue his pastoral responsibility. The decision carried a real personal cost. He left a government position with retirement benefits and accepted work in a private school without comparable retirement benefits, trusting God's promise to provide for his needs. He later became a full time Minister in the Apostolic Faith Church Agbo Oba Ilorin.

MARRIAGE

On December 23, 1965, our Late father married his beloved wife, Phebean Zuyali Shidali, at Akabe, Bassa Nge, Benue State, now Kogi State. The marriage was blessed with seven children and, in time, grandchildren. All these children with their families including grandchildren, are here today to pay their father their last respects.

CHRISTIAN LIFE AND SERVICE

Our Late Father came from a Muslim background. During an important period of his early life, he lived with his uncle, Mr. Agbem, whose Christian influence introduced him more closely to Jesus Christ. Through that relationship, he came into a closer relationship with God. His journey reached a decisive point in 1970, when he was saved at Jebba under the ministry of the late Brother Joseph Adenola. From then on, Christian faith became more than an influence or affiliation; it became a personal conviction and a governing principle.

In January 1973, the Apostolic Faith work in Ilorin began in a humble but significant way - in the living room of our Late Beloved Brother Paul. The first meeting was held in his rented apartment on Ibrahim Taiwo Road, with his wife and guests in attendance.

What began as a small gathering in a family home gradually grew to become the Kwara Area Headquarters. As attendance increased, the Ilorin Local Government authorities approved the use of United Primary School, Ibrahim Taiwo Road, for religious activities. The congregation moved there and continued to grow. Later in 1975, the church moved to its present permanent place of worship as the Lord increased the congregation.

He served as a Part time Pastor of the Church from 1973 to 1982. In 1982, he began serving as Assistant District Overseer, carrying wider responsibility within the Apostolic Faith work. In 1992, he obtained his ministerial credential, and in 1995 he was ordained as a Minister of the Apostolic Faith Church.

As he grew older, Rev. Shidali increasingly moved from building and leading to guiding and transferring wisdom formed through decades of teaching, family life, ministry, sacrifice, hardship, and prayer.

His children, grandchildren, relatives, church members, and others received that inheritance through instruction, counsel, prayer, encouragement, correction, and example.

THE LAST MILE "GOING HOME"

In early 2026, his wife began to notice changes in his physical health, and the family ensured that he received appropriate care. In May 2026, he was unwell for about three weeks and could not attend church services. During that period, he repeatedly told his wife, "I am going home."

He recovered, returned to church, and the family thanked God for his recovery. Yet he continued saying that he wanted to "go home."

On August 3, 2026, Rev. Shidali from John 14:12 "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father." This was the last Bible reference he is known to have written and he placed it in front of his Bible.

On August 4, 2026, after breakfast, he fell ill, and was well taken care of. He continued to thank God and expressed gratitude to those caring for him. On August 16, 2026, he breathed his last to exchange his sword for a conqueror's crown.

His family, children, and grandchildren carry his story. Those he taught carry his knowledge; those he ministered to remember his service. The Apostolic Faith work in Ilorin remains a witness to his faith, sacrifice, and willingness to begin humbly and serve faithfully.

His earthly assignment is complete. Ours continues.

His light has not simply gone out. It has changed hands.

TRIBUTES

REV. PAUL KADIR SHIDALI

4 December 1933 - 16 August 2026

A selection of tributes from family, grandchildren, ministers, church members, former students and friends. Edited for space while preserving each contributor's central memory and message.

From His Wife

Phebe Shidali.

Papa, my darling husband, you loved me sacrificially and faithfully like Christ loved the church. You provided heartily for our family and entrusted me completely with our funds, often handing over what you had and keeping only a little for yourself. You showed us that a man could be great on the pulpit and still be homely, gentle and sweet at home. From the beginning of our marriage into old age, you lovingly ran errands for me and taught our children that true leadership includes service. You taught us holiness, obedience to God and daily surrender to His will. You preached whenever you had opportunity, but your life itself was also a sermon. I watched you carry burdens that were not yours, visit the sick, weep with the grieving and rejoice sincerely with others. Your consistent prayer life inspired the children and me. You have finished your course. You ran well, loved well, pastored well and finished well. Rest in the bosom of Almighty God, my beloved husband.

From His Children

Grace Olarinde.

Daddy, from my childhood you taught me to love God, love people, forgive others, pray and study the Word. At thirteen you introduced me to midnight prayers, a discipline that has strengthened me through difficult seasons. When I was wrong, you did not reject me; you corrected me, explained why, and lovingly drew me back. Your correction was meant to guide, not destroy. One memory that remains with me is the day one of my brothers was wrongfully arrested. I expected anger, but when you heard what happened, you went straight to your knees and began to thank God. Even in pain, your first response was to turn to Him. More than what I heard in church, it was what I saw in your life that made me want to serve God. You taught me to hear from God and to believe that what He says is final, regardless of circumstances or other voices. You stood for truth even when standing alone. You prayed, advised and encouraged rather than forcing us. I will carry forward your love, forgiveness, kindness, prayer life, devotion to Scripture and obedience to God. You often spoke about making heaven - "A o de orun." I take comfort that you are resting with the Lord you loved and served. I love you, Daddy, and I will always miss you.

Emmanuel Shidali.

Papa, thank you for teaching me from childhood how to seek God and recognize His voice. You showed me that a father's greatest inheritance is not merely what he leaves behind, but the God he teaches his children to know for themselves. You taught us to develop a personal relationship with God, trust His Word, obey His commandments and remember that He has a purpose for our lives. Thank you for the countless prayers you prayed for us - many of which we may never fully know - and for standing in the gap for your wife, children, grandchildren and those God placed around you. Most importantly, you tried to live before us the life you preached. Your desire was not simply to succeed in this world, but to live a Christlike life with eternity in view and finish faithfully with heaven as your destination. I will remember: know God for yourself; listen for His voice; obey His Word; trust His plan; pray continually; follow Christ faithfully; live with eternity in view. These are not merely words you taught me; they are part of the spiritual inheritance you left within me. The God you taught me to know is still my God. The God you prayed to is still God. By His grace, I will carry forward what you planted in me. Rest well, Papa.

Samuel Shidali-Paul.

Papa, the greatest gift you gave us was not money, property or material wealth, but what I call "the God Factor." You taught us to put God first, seek Him before major decisions and obey His Word even when His instructions were difficult. You used to say, "Take heed to God's instruction, no matter how hard His Word may seem." Another lesson you lived was: think about what you can give to people, not what you can get from them. As a child, I remember joining you in long hours of prayer. You taught me that prayer is not only speaking to God, but waiting and listening for His answer. For years you prayed from midnight until early morning and still woke us for family devotion before school. You taught me humility, independent conviction and forgiveness. You faced persecution and reasons to hold grudges, yet you chose to forgive and leave vengeance to God. You also showed us that deep spirituality and family love do not compete. The friendship, companionship and loyalty you shared with Mum taught me what marriage could be. Your love reached your children and grandchildren alike. I will miss your voice, advice and the assurance that somewhere you were praying. Your prayers, lessons and life will continue to guide us. Thank you for giving us a strong spiritual foundation and teaching us to find our way back to God in every season. Rest well, Teacher Paul.

Janet Oladunni.

Daddy, you taught me love, faith and prayer. I remember the early mornings when you called our names before God while we were still sleeping, quietly kneeling for your family when no one was watching. You believed God with your whole heart. When things were hard, you did not panic - you prayed. When things were good, you gave thanks. Your Bible was worn because you truly read it; your faith was real because you lived it. At home you provided, protected and corrected us with love and patience. You never wanted attention; you simply wanted to serve God and love your family well. Your love reflected your prayer life, and your prayer life reflected your faith. Daddy, thank you for showing us what love looks like and for praying us through. Your love remains, your prayers remain and your faith remains in us. We will continue what you started. We love you forever. Rest well, Daddy.

Flora Taiye Akinbami Shidali.

Papa, words cannot fully express how much you meant to me and how deeply your absence hurts. You were my guide, prayer warrior, protector and a beautiful example of a life devoted to Christ. You taught us to pray believing, to trust God and never give up. Even when challenges came, you remained steadfast and encouraged us to put God first. You lived the Christ life not only in words but through kindness, humility, patience, generosity and love. You cared deeply for people and were always ready to help, comfort, encourage and support those in need. As a father, you carried our burdens as though they were your own, celebrated our successes and stood beside us in difficult moments. Your love made us feel safe, valued and protected. Your greatest gift was the legacy you left behind. Your teachings, prayers, love and good works will continue to speak, and I will carry your values and pass them to the generations after me. Thank you for being our father, for praying for us and for showing us what it means to live for Christ. Your voice may be silent, but your prayers, love and legacy continue in us. You fought a good fight, finished your race and kept the faith. Rest in the loving arms of the Lord, Papa. I love you forever.

Helen Elebiomayo.

To my awesome Daddy, thank you for your prayers, care, teaching and correction, always grounded in Scripture and given with love. You taught us not merely to talk about pleasing God but to live it. You showed us how to fight with prayer and the Word, wait patiently on God for answers, forgive without grudges and love people equally. I will miss your advice, prayers, kindness, smiles, laughter and the many ways you cared for me. I still remember the tender moments of you carrying my baby and dancing so she could stop crying. Dad, you may not have possessed everything this world offers, but you gave us everything you had. I will miss your calls to check on us, your Bible verses, prayer points and words of encouragement that assured us of victory. Yet I hold to the Comforter you taught us about and to the Scriptures you left with us. Papa Yebom, I love you and always will. I may no longer see, hold or hear your voice, but you will remain in my heart and every moment we shared will be cherished. By God's grace, we shall meet again. Rest well, my beloved Daddy.

AGED
92

Nwelih Gloria

Daddy, you did not merely read the Word - you breathed it. I remember your Bible resting on your chest as you meditated and prayed. You taught me how to fight by speaking Scripture again and again. You built our home with the Word, prayer and supplication. From a tender age, you taught me that prayer is not a monologue but a dialogue, that one can hear God's voice, and that the Bible gives us the vocabulary with which to pray. You gave me one of the greatest gifts a father can give: a prayer language rooted in Scripture. Because of you, I learned to wield the sword of the Spirit. You have finished your calling triumphantly, but your prayers continue to echo in our lives and into eternity. I miss you deeply, Daddy.

From His Grandchildren

David Maro Joseph.

Papa was more than a grandfather; he was a father figure who raised, guided, protected and shaped me. He taught me faith, prayer, humility, hard work, respect and responsibility. He corrected me with love and always wanted the best for those he loved. I am forever grateful for his guidance and sacrifices. His love and values will continue to live through my life.

Faith Olarinde. ndpa filled ordinary moments with love. I still remember the mango you gave me when I had a loose tooth, the hours you spent praying when I was sick, and how you stood beside us after my father died. You taught us not to hold offence, to talk things through and to give others the benefit of the doubt. Your faith was unshakeable, and your Saturday calls and prayers will remain with me.

Shekinah Cosmas-Ugwa.

Grandpa was kind, generous and prayerful. He sang "Happy Birthday" to me, prayed for me when I was down, taught me God's Word and always greeted me with, "How are you? God bless you!" I will miss him, but his memories remain alive in my heart.

Blossom Cosmas-Ugwa.

I am grateful I had the opportunity to know Grandpa. I remember him singing on my birthdays and laying his hands on my head to pray whenever he visited. He was loving and generous, and I will always remember those moments.

Faithfulness Olarinde.

Papa's love was seen in quiet everyday actions. His home with Grandma was warm and open to family and friends. I remember weekends together, fresh fruit he brought home to share, and the joy he created around holidays. Above all, I remember a grandfather who made family feel loved and safe.

Faithful Olarinde.

Papa, I am thankful for the example you gave me. You were sweet, calm and caring, and you lived the love you preached. I admired how you cared for every member of the family, chose to see the good in people and prayed faithfully for us. Your faith and your character remain an inspiration to me.

Fortune Olarinde.

When I think of Grandpa, I remember small acts of love-like buying more cabbage the next day simply because I said I liked it. That was who he was: attentive, caring and thoughtful. He rarely complained and tried to understand other people's perspective. I hope to carry that quality of understanding with me.

Stephen Oladunni.

I remember Grandpa always praying for me and checking up on me. When I was younger, he played with me and brought me a joy I cannot fully express. I will always miss him, his prayers and the impact he made on my life.

Donald Shidali-Paul.

Grandpa always prayed for me when I was sick and on my birthdays. I will remember his love and prayers.

Daniel Shidali-Paul.

Grandpa prayed for us when we were sick and on our birthdays. His prayers and care will remain special memories for me.

Akinbamini George.

Grandpa was a caring and prayerful man whose love touched everyone around him. He prayed faithfully for our protection, happiness and success. His kindness, wisdom and prayers will remain in our hearts, and we are grateful for the beautiful memories and love he left behind. Rest peacefully, Grandpa.

From Family and Loved Ones

Racheal Oladeinde.

I thank God for Papa's life of service to God and humanity. He was pleasant, humble, prayerful, accommodating and loving-a true soldier of the cross. I came to know Daddy Rev. Paul Kadir Shidali through my children, Emmanuel and Funmi Shidali, and our relationship remained cordial throughout his lifetime. I will miss his words of encouragement and his prayers. Good night, Daddy, until we meet again where parting is no more.

Olubiye Oladunni.

Papa Shidali was a true soldier of the cross who carried himself with grace and dignity. He was a prayer warrior who depended on God and stood firmly for truth. We will miss him deeply, but we take comfort that his labour and faithful witness remain.

Julius Ogedengbe.

Grandpa welcomed me and treated me like his own son. His kindness, wisdom, prayers and warmth made me feel that I truly belonged. He taught the Word not only by preaching it but by living it. I am grateful for every conversation, prayer and act of love. His life pointed people to God, and I will carry his memory with me always.

Chibuzor Olorunfemi Anyatonwu.

Baba P. K. Shidali fought the good fight, finished his course and kept the faith. His life of service, love and devotion to God will remain an inspiration. His labour of love will not be forgotten. Sun re o, Baba.

Ololade Makinde (Née Efuntoye).

Papa was a lover of God and of people. Our family spent many Sundays in his home, and he always noticed when we were absent. He welcomed us, prayed for us and anointed us. My life is a testimony to his love and prayers. I will miss him until the resurrection morning.

Salome Nwafor.

Through his son Samuel, I came to know Papa as a man who never tired of reminding people that heaven is real and Jesus Christ is coming again. His words caused us to reflect on how life should be lived. He loved God wholeheartedly and showed that love across family boundaries.

Aluko Oluwakemisola.

Papa's love, care and especially his prayers had a deep impact on my life. Distance never stopped him from praying for me. I remember his unusual and heartfelt prayer points and his unwavering love for God. His humility, gratitude, selflessness and compassion remain worthy of emulation.

Nicholas Uanikhoba.

I knew Baba in the later years of his life, when public ministry had quietened and character could be seen plainly. What stood out was his humility, thanksgiving and love. He thanked people for the smallest kindness, cherished his wife deeply and made everyone feel valued. I will always remember his words: "Thank you for your love. God bless you."

Mrs Joy Diza Omotehinse.

Papa was a remarkable uncle. Through the Gospel he helped point my parents to Christ, leaving a legacy of faith that shaped my own Christian life. Our conversations often ended in heartfelt prayers. He is gone, but the footprints of his faith and love will remain in our family for generations.

Temitope Elebiomayo.

Papa welcomed me with the words, "I don't have in-laws; I have children." That statement captured his love. In difficult times he gave me Scriptures to recite and words of encouragement that still strengthen me. His humility, prayers, books and life pointed me toward God. He taught me faith, the Word, humility, prayer and love.

Monday Enejoh.

Papa was a spiritual father, prayer warrior and a man who genuinely loved God. One word that almost always arose in conversation with him was HEAVEN. He urged us to live with eternity in view, preached holy living and practiced what he preached. His integrity, prayer life and devotion to God made him a giant of faith.

Williams Awodele.

Brother Paul became to me a father, uncle, brother, mentor, prayer partner and trusted friend. From the time I met him in Ilorin, he treated me like a son and invested in me spiritually, physically and materially. He was straightforward, gentle, disciplined, caring, prayerful and committed to the truth of God's Word.

Amodu Akinola Toyin.

Baba Shidali was prayerful, gentle and sincerely devoted to Christ. One memory stays with me: near the end of his life, when his strength was almost gone, I asked him to pray for me and he still prayed. Even at the edge of life his heart was interceding for others. He lived ready for Christ's return and taught others to do the same.

Cosmas Nwelih.

It is an honour to pay tribute to Daddy, a pillar of faith, service and God's light. After I lost my own father, Pa Shidali became much more than a father-in-law to me; he became a caring father. His advice, conversations and prayers nurtured me and my family. He treated me with deep respect, affectionately calling me "broda mi," and made it clear that I was one of his sons. When we were sick, he called and prayed until we recovered; on birthdays, he called to sing and pray for us. He was a true servant of God whose focus was Christ rather than human traditions. His life reminds us to fight the good fight, finish the course and keep the faith. Adieu, Daddy—a true pillar and exemplar of faith.

E.J. Nwelih.

Daddy was an epitome of a Bible Christian: straightforward, Spirit-filled and deeply loved by my father. My encounters with him were always memorable. On one occasion, shortly after returning from a trip and before he had properly rested, he began pouring out prayers over me. To our family he was far more than an in-law; he was a father. The Nwelih family misses and loves you, but God loves you most. Good night, God's General, until the resurrection morning.

Adejoke Shidali-Paul.

Knowing Grandpa was a profound honour. He was gentle in spirit, fair to everyone and continually anchored his conversations in the hope of heaven. His kindness knew no boundaries, and his life reflected peace, love and faith. We take comfort that he lived with purpose and has entered the eternity he so often spoke about. His legacy reminds us that heaven is the goal and this life is only temporary.

Jeremiah Legbami.

Papa was a kind, loving and godly man who made people feel included. He continually reminded us of God and encouraged us to live lives that pleased Him. He was more than my father's friend; he became family. We will miss his wisdom and warmth, but his legacy of love and faith will remain in our hearts.

Jerome Legbami.

My beloved brother kept the light of the Gospel burning to the end. I thank God for his life, the lives he touched and the faith he held firmly. His absence leaves a deep space, but I am comforted that he finished his race and went ahead of us. Goodnight, my brother, until the resurrection morning.

Mabel Legbami.

Growing up, I thought Papa was my father's biological brother because of the beautiful bond between them. That bond extended to their wives and to us, the children. He loved us genuinely and touched our lives in many ways. His kindness, warmth and love remain part of our memories, and we are grateful we experienced his love.

Abolarin Family.

Grandpa welcomed us not as visitors but as family. He was kindness personified, a faithful man of prayer who stood in the gap for us and remained present through sickness and difficult seasons. He also carried a deep well of wisdom, offering thoughtful counsel that stayed with us. His legacy of love, family bonding, prayer and life wisdom will continue to light our path.

From Ministers and Church Family

Rev. Francis & Kikelomo Fadipe.

We remember a loving father in the Lord who received us with open hands of fellowship. He left behind a legacy of kindness, generosity, dignity and love. He was a selfless giver who took joy in helping and pleasing others, often putting their needs before his own. We are grateful for the warmth with which he received us and for the fatherly example he provided. Though his departure came sooner than we would have wished, we thank God for a life that demonstrated how to love. Adieu, our loving father. Rest on until the resurrection morning, when by God's grace we shall gather again and shout Hallelujah together.

Michael Momoh.

Through Pa Shidali I learned what Christian love means. He did not merely preach love; he lived it in generosity, respect, patience and genuine concern for people. I was saved through his preaching in a mud-built classroom during the early days of the Apostolic Faith work in Ilorin, and I came to understand that what he preached was not separate from the life he lived - his life itself was a sermon. I will especially miss his calls. If he did not see us in church, he would call, ask after us and make sure everything was alright. Those calls showed that he noticed people and genuinely cared. Our last call was on July 13, and knowing it became our final conversation makes it precious. I was also privileged to be at his bedside some minutes before he passed away on August 16, 2024. I thank God for that opportunity. Thank you, Papa, for the love, the calls, the prayers, the preaching and the example. Your life was truly well spent in the service of the Lord.

Mathias & Olayinka Bamigbola.

Another gospel veteran has gone home to meet his Lord and Saviour. We honour a father in the Lord whose godly footsteps remain before us. By God's grace, may we follow that faithful example until we too meet our Saviour.

Dr. Sanya Ibrionke & Family.

Grandpa's memories are precious to us. We remember a loving father, prayer warrior and deeply considerate man. We loved him in life and continue to honour him in his passing. His love and prayerful life remain with us.

Bro. & Sis. Lateef Osunsola.

Papa was a great man of God whose hope was fixed on heaven. We remember his familiar assurance, 'A o d?run'-we will make it to heaven. Good night, Papa, until the resurrection morning.

Esther Olubisi Ajibade.

Daddy, your words gave us direction and your presence brought comfort in every season. You taught us integrity, hard work and kindness, not only through words but through the life you lived. Your prayers, sacrifices and love remain a lasting foundation for us. Your legacy lives on in our hearts and in the values you instilled in us. Thank you for being our father, hero, teacher and inspiration. We are grateful for all you did for us. Continue to rest until the resurrection morning.

Oluniyo Elizabeth.

Grandpa never neglected his children. Even after I lost my dad, he kept visiting, praying with us and reminding us about heaven. I am grateful that he stood with our family through difficult seasons. He taught me love, prayer and the discipline of God's Word.

Engr. Tolulope Amusa (FNSE).

Some people pass through this world and leave memories; others leave a legacy of faith, character, love and godliness in the hearts of those who knew them. Daddy was one of such people. He was not merely a father in the faith but a living example of what it means to genuinely love Jesus Christ and walk with Him to the end. His life preached even when he was not speaking. His humility spoke. His kindness spoke. His integrity spoke. His love spoke. His prayer life spoke. His unwavering commitment to Christ spoke. He lived well, loved well, served well, prayed well and finished well. His voice may be silent, but his testimony will continue to speak. Thank you, Daddy, for showing us what it means to walk genuinely with Jesus. Your memory is blessed and your legacy will remain until we meet again at the feet of Christ.

Dr. Matthew Dale Achor.

Rev. Paul Shidali was truly a man of God - a lover of God and a lover of people. He was a man of integrity, a devoted father, a faithful pastor and a servant who dedicated his life to the truth of God's Word. He stood firmly and uncompromisingly for truth; he preached it, lived it, defended it and demonstrated it through his character and conduct. To many he was a pastor; to others, a father, mentor, teacher, counsellor and spiritual leader. He poured himself into the lives of others and faithfully fulfilled the assignment entrusted to him. Though our hearts are heavy, we remain grateful for the life he lived, the souls he touched, the truth he proclaimed and the legacy of faith he leaves behind. His voice may be silent on this side of eternity, but the seeds he planted and the lives he impacted will continue to speak for generations. Sleep on, God's General. You fought the good fight, kept the faith and finished your course.

Oluwaseun.

Papa was my mentor, encourager, counsellor, teacher and strength. He taught me to read the Bible, meditate on God's promises, speak the Word with faith and trust God completely. His encouragement strengthened me in difficult moments. Though his voice is silent, his words remain in my heart.

Dosunmu David.

Baba Shidali was my daddy in the Lord. I will remember his prayers when I was sick, his encouragement concerning church assignments, his sermons about the rapture and the prophecies he shared. His life of faith and service made a lasting impact on me. Rest on until the resurrection morning.

Bamgbola Jelili.

Baba was a true Christian: humble, disciplined and courageous in preaching against sin and selfish ambition. He stood firmly among his peers and showed what principled Christian leadership looked like.

Juliana Ibiyomi.

Baba was truly a father, teacher and faithful minister. My last extended time with him was in October 2024, when he sat me down and spoke words into my life that I have since seen God honour. Thank you, Baba, for all you represented in my life and in the Church of God.

Olabode & Abimbola Efuntoye. Papa was a devoted pastor, loving father, mentor, evangelist and faithful steward whose faith did not waver. We will miss his voice, wisdom, prayers, kindness, welcoming heart and the warmth of his presence. He was a father not only to his biological children but to many who found guidance, encouragement and love in him. He served God faithfully, preached the Gospel passionately and welcomed people generously. We remember his willingness to travel several kilometres by public transportation simply to pray for someone who was sick, without regard for inconvenience. We also remember working with him around Gospel publications, where ordinary tasks became opportunities for spiritual counsel, advice and prayer. Those counsels helped us navigate life's challenges. His earthly journey has ended, but his faith, love and service continue in the family, those he mentored and every life he touched.

Faith Odey (Née Erhabor).

Papa taught me to pray. I remember the morning prayers, his gratitude to God and his confidence in divine protection. On days

I joined those prayers, the day felt different. He left in me a lasting conviction that prayer should be part of daily life.

Aanu Ajadi.

Grandpa received me into the family as one of his daughters, and I remain grateful that God allowed our paths to cross. On several occasions when I was sick as an undergraduate, Grandpa came to visit and pray for me. I remember one day when I was so weak that I could not feed myself. Grandpa and Grandma came when they heard I was ill, and he began praying that I would receive strength to eat. A few minutes later, I was able to finish the food. Moments like that made his care and faith very personal to me. I also remember his prophetic words - words spoken over my life, over people I knew and even over the church - and the way many of them came to pass. His life taught me to pray, to stand for truth and to trust God. I have no doubt that Papa has gone to rest from his labours, and I hope by God's grace to see him again in heaven and tell him that I made it too.

Toye Mosunmola G. (Née Onifade).

Baba's words were encouraging, and his life was an example of faith in Jesus Christ. I remember him as a man who encouraged others to stand for truth.

Olasunkanmi.

Baba Shidali was kind, prayerful and especially loving toward children. His warm, gentle and cheerful nature made people comfortable around him. He will be remembered as a praying father whose presence brought joy.

Abiodun Adeniyi.

Daddy's life taught me to love God, pray and use the Word of God against troubling thoughts. I remember the Scriptures and phrases he taught us and how they strengthened me. His standard of living, smile and gentle touch encouraged me to pursue a life of faith.

Temitope Olokode.

Daddy greeted both young and old with love, respect and a smile. He was caring, disciplined, prayerful, humble and diligent in serving God. There was rarely a dull moment around him, and many experienced him as a loving father.

Ajayi Philomena Hope.

Baba Shidali was an icon of truth and love. He showed love without strings attached and demonstrated that the Gospel crosses ethnic boundaries. His life remains one reason many of us will continue to serve God in spirit and truth.

Samson & Tosin Jimaza.

We thank God for Rev. Paul Shidali's faithful ministry, devotion to prayer and sacrificial service. He not only preached the Word but sought to live it. Through his counsel, teaching, encouragement and example, many lives were strengthened. His presence was a gift and his dedication to God left an enduring mark.

Efuntoye Dave Olatubosun.

Baba was passionate about heaven and uncompromising in his faith. He cared deeply for church members and was always ready to seek God in prayer for their needs. He taught us to be prayerful, to stand for truth and to trust God.

Ogunrinola Samuel Folayemi.

Rev. Paul Shidali was gentle, calm and a mentor to both young and old. He did not discriminate, and his disciplined commitment to church life was memorable. I especially remember his punctuality for programmes and the 5:30 a.m. morning prayer.

Akintola Olatunde.

Baba Shidali was quiet, godly and disciplined, consumed by zeal for God's house. His exemplary Christian life encouraged others, and he was known for standing for truth.

Ajayi Samuel.

Grandpa's love was expressed in action. When we were sick, he would come with anointing oil, pray and remind us, "A dé ??run"-we will make it to heaven. Those words and prayers remain in my heart.

Olajumoke Aladetuyi (Née Efuntoye).

Papa was more than a pastor to me; he was a grandfather with a heart of gold, a man of prayer and a true example of Christ's love. Some of my fondest childhood memories are the Sundays we spent in Papa and Mom's home after church. We looked forward to the meals, but it was never only about food - it was about warmth, laughter and the feeling of belonging. Papa was intentional about people. If we missed a Sunday, he would ask why he had not seen us, and that simple question made us feel noticed and loved. His life taught me that prayer is not simply an activity but a way of life. His discipline, kindness, humility and genuine care for people planted seeds that continue to grow in me. I miss those beautiful Sundays and the privilege of being loved by such an incredible man. Thank you, Papa, for the legacy of faith and love you left behind. Your impact will remain in my heart forever.

Ajayi Oluwabusayomi.

Grandpa's love went beyond words. Whenever we were sick, he came, prayed and reminded us, "A dé ??run"-we will make it to heaven. I remember him as a man who stood for truth.

Oluwabusayomi & Esther Ajayi.

Grandpa's love and prayers toward our family were great. We remember him as a gallant soldier of the cross who stood firmly for truth. We loved him deeply and pray for comfort for the family.

Pelumi Enejoh.

Papa Shidali reflected Christ in the way he lived. Every encounter with him reminded me that serving God is not only about what we say but how we live. He continually encouraged me to take everything to God in prayer and to keep trusting Him. His familiar assurance, "It will be well with you - yoo daa fun yin," carried hope and comfort. Papa was passionate about the Gospel. He shared Gospel literature and books he had written, using what he believed God had given him to encourage others. His life testified to faith, prayer, perseverance and hope. He did not merely tell people about Christ; he exemplified Christ through character, kindness and devotion. His words, books, prayers and example will remain a lasting reminder to keep trusting God and never stop praying. His voice may be silent, but the seeds he planted will continue to speak.

Jonathan Kolawole.

His prayers will forever ring in my ears. He constantly reminded us to pray, trust God and hold to the hope of heaven, often praying that all his children would make it there. Rest on, great soldier.

Josephine Adaramola (Née Ologbonsaiye).

Papa Shidali was a father beyond blood. Our families lived closely for many years, and his home became like a second home where we could walk in, eat, laugh and simply belong. I lost my father when I was six, and during those tender years Papa became one of the father figures God placed around us. One of my strongest memories is his prayers. He laid his hands on our heads and reminded us, "God is the Father of the fatherless, and He will take care of you." Those words gave reassurance and hope. Papa was warm, welcoming, calm and almost always smiling. His humility was remarkable: even as an elderly man he respectfully addressed people as "Brother" or "Sister," regardless of age. He quietly demonstrated what Christianity should look like in the way he welcomed, encouraged, respected and prayed for people. We will miss his prayers, his smile, his calmness and his reassuring presence. Perhaps the greatest tribute we can give him is to hold on to the prayer he repeated so often - that we too will make Heaven. You may not have been our father by blood, Papa, but you occupied a father's place in our hearts.

Tomisin Victoria Ologbonsaiye.

Papa was part of my life for as long as I can remember - a founding father and minister in the church, but also a father figure whose home felt like a second home. My siblings and I could move freely in and out because Papa and Momi welcomed us warmly. I remember the Scripture and encouraging writings posted on the walls and doors around the house. Papa showed me that faith is not merely something we profess but something we live, and that love must be demonstrated. After church services I looked forward to going to the minister's seat for Papa to anoint my head and lay hands on me in prayer - whether I was sick, preparing for exams or simply wanted prayer. His voice as he prayed still echoes in my memory. I am honoured to have known him all my life. His faith, humility, dedication to God and prayer will remain with me.

Aderemi Ajibade.

From childhood I knew Baba as a prayerful and loving man of God who would not compromise God's standards. I watched him go from place to place praying for the sick, and I also knew him as an Assistant Headmaster at Chapel Nursery and Primary School, Ilorin. One childhood incident stayed with me: after I got into a fight at school and feared the consequences, Baba intervened. Looking back, I see that he was both a disciplinarian and a compassionate man who knew how to guide and protect a child. His prayer life was extraordinary. Spending time with Baba almost certainly meant spending time in prayer; he was always praying and blessing people. He was also deeply humble, creating no barrier between himself and others and making people feel welcome and valued. He encouraged Bible study, holy living and readiness for heaven. He was passionate about sharing a book he had written on putting on the whole armour of God, personally sending copies to people he believed would benefit from it. That was Baba: always looking for ways to help someone grow spiritually. He invested in us, taught us the Word and wanted the message he preached to become reality in our lives. His prayers, teachings and example will continue to live in the hearts of those who knew him.

Papa was meek, gentle and humble, and he radiated the love of Christ through both his words and his life. His greetings often became prayers and blessings; he spoke from the abundance of a heart filled with love, faith and encouragement. As a child, I remember him as my assistant headmaster before he moved into full-time ministry. His life was a beautiful testimony of devotion to God and love for people. Papa's favourite hymn was "God Will Answer Every Prayer," and the message of that hymn reflected the faith he carried throughout his life. He taught us not only through words but by example how to remain humble, kind, loving and fully devoted to God. His gentle spirit, prayers, wisdom and unwavering faith will continue to inspire us. As we mourn, we hold firmly to the hope of the resurrection. Rest peacefully, Papa. Your life was a blessing and your faith was an example to us all.

Pa Paul Kadir Shidali was once our pastor and later became family. His prayers and support were constant. He was a quiet, unassuming mentor who freely shared words of encouragement and the message of God's love and grace. He prayed faithfully for us in times of sickness and never complained of weariness. His Spirit-filled counsel blessed people both near and far. Good night, Pa Shidali, until we meet again.

Rev. Paul Shidali remains unforgettable to me for his humility, his commitment to truth and his support for the work of God. Yet one particular word of counsel stands above many other memories. After the death of my late uncle, John Oyedun, there were many sympathisers and many words of comfort. Most faded with time, but something Rev. Shidali said remained with me and continued to guide my steps in life, both in church and outside it. I did not have the opportunity to return and tell him how deeply those words helped shape me, but I remain grateful. His life showed patience, humility and a wisdom that outlived the moment in which it was spoken. He imparted the world around him, and I pray that he continues to rest in the bosom of the Lord Jesus Christ whom he served dutifully and faithfully. See you in the morning, Daddy. Rest on.

Papa was a father in a million whose life is worthy of emulation. We will continue to remember him as a role model who was always willing to make people happy. May God grant him peaceful rest.

Dr. Bimbo Ashaolu.

As a former pupil of Chapel Nursery and Primary School, I consider it a privilege to have known Reverend Shidali. He had a listening ear for his pupils, was a prayer warrior and was completely devoted to spiritual matters. He never hesitated to speak about Christ and served God faithfully from beginning to end. Daddy knew what he wanted in life: God. He sought Him, loved people around him and wanted others to know God genuinely. He was never afraid to share the Gospel and remained an evangelist to the end. His life and witness remain an example of what it means to be righteous, upright and steadfast in faith. We thank God for the privilege of knowing him and for the legacy he leaves behind. May we remember that legacy and pursue our own portion of heavenly glory. Daddy Shidali came, saw and conquered by the grace of God. Rest in the bosom of the Father until we meet again.

As a pupil, I remember him as loving, kind and approachable. He was always ready to listen or help, and he treated pupils equally—even when his own child was among us. That fairness and openness remain vivid memories.

Dr Obadofin Vincent Ola.

Daddy Shidali walked closely with God, and it showed in his commitment to family, principled upbringing, generosity and welcoming spirit. He was a friend to many and gave freely with joy. The seeds of love, faith and generosity he planted will continue to grow.
